FROM THE EDITOR

I recently have taken over the Newsletter from Richard Libby. He has done a great job over the years getting this publication out. I have not received one article from anyone this session. It's pretty hard to write a newsletter when you don't get anything from anyone. It's hard to believe that in this whole state there is nothing going on that would be an interesting article for the newsletter. This is your paper and without your help it will fall by the wayside. If I get an article and there is room I will squeeze it in or get it in the next newsletter, but from the looks I won't have to squeeze very hard. Please give me a hand with your paper. Send me snail mail at Steve York 28 Birch Street, East Millinocket, Maine 04430 or e-mail me at yorksm@midmaine.com or you can still send stuff to Richard Libby and he will get it to me. Your help will be appreciated. Sorry for the lateness of this issue. But computer problems and no information this is the best I could do. Hope to do better as I go along. If you would like to see some changes in the format or any other suggestions contact me it's your paper. Thanks again Richard for all your time and effort in the past.

FIREHOUSE HUMOR

Fire Reporting

A woman came home to find her house was on fire. She ran to the neighbors and phoned the fire department and shouted, "hurry over here my house is on fire!" "OK" replied the fireman, "how do we get there?" "Don't you still have those big red trucks?" she replied.

The Little Boy

A fireman is at the station house working outside on the fire truck when he notices a little boy next door. The little boy is in a little red wagon with ladders hung off the side. He is wearing a fireman's hat and has the wagon tied to a dog. The fireman says, "Hey little boy, What are you doing?" The little boy says, "I'm pretending to be a fireman and this is my fire truck!" The fireman walks over to take a closer look. The fireman says, "Little boy, that sure is a nice fire truck!" "Thanks mister," says the little boy. The fireman looks a little closer and notices the little boy has tied the dog to the wagon by its testicles. "Little boy," says the fireman, "I don't want to tell you how to run your fire truck, but if you were to tie your rope around the dogs neck I think you could go faster."

"Your probably right mister, but then I wouldn't have a siren!"

SAFETY REMINDER

Enjoy all the festivities at the Firefighters Convention. Be smart and don't drink and drive. Use transportation provided or a designated driver. We want you all around for many more. Have a safe journey home after the Convention.
