Leadership 2010

iWomen Leadership Conference

August 23-24, 2010 | Downtown Chicago

The International Association of Women in Fire & Emergency Services (iWomen) is pleased to announce that our 2010 Leadership Conference will be co-located with Fire-Rescue International, August 23-24 in downtown Chicago.

iWomen's 2010 Leadership Conference offers a wide variety of workshops focused on leadership topics that are relevant to both new and seasoned fire service personnel working in career and volunteer departments.

This educational conference is designed for both women and men who are currently:

- Fire Chiefs
- Company Officers
- Firefighters
- Paramedics
- Human Relations Officers
- Public Safety Officers

Conference hotel – Hilton Chicago located on the "Cultural Michigan Avenue Mile" overlooking Grant Park and Lake Michigan.

The keynote address at this year's conference will be given by Laura A. Liswood on Monday, August 23rd.

Ms. Liswood's latest book, The Loudest Duck, is a business guide that explores workplace diversity and uses practical stories to offer an alternate, nuanced approach to diversity to create a truly effective workplace for all. (Wiley & Sons, November 2009).

Book Signing – Ms. Liswood will sign copies of her book following her keynote address.
